ARCH. invited artists, architects, designers, and others to submit works that in some way explore the concept of spaces altered by, or created by people. As a component of our reality, space is taken for granted. And our specie's existence seems inevitably driven by our individual and collective impulse to alter this elemental fabric of the universe.

For better or worse humanity's instinctual nest building has shaped our world. ARCH. assembles a diverse array of works for an exhibit that is unified in its consideration of the concept of made space, and intriguing due to the surprising ways in which artists address the subject, and for what is revealed about how humans alter and address space as a medium of life.

For this exhibit 142 artists submitted 337 works for consideration. Twenty-four works by these 20 artists from Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Canada, and Spain were selected for presentation in Manifest's Main Gallery and Drawing Room in Cincinnati.

Selections from the International Drawing Annual is the sixth annual presentation of this exhibit, featuring a sampling of artworks to be included in the forthcoming International Drawing Annual 6 exhibit-in-print publication.

The International Drawing Annual book project was launched in 2005 as an extension of Manifest's Drawing Center mission to promote, feature, and explore drawing as a rich and culturally significant art form. The goal of the International Drawing Annual is to support the recognition, documentation, and publication of excellent, current, and relevant works of drawing from around the world.

All works included in each annual are made within three years leading up to its publication. Soft and hardcover versions of the INDA 6 book will be available by early 2012. Previous volumes remain available from the gallery and many bookstores around the country. The books serve as a valuable reflection on the diversity and vitality of drawing active in the world. They are used by artists, collectors, other galleries, fans of art, students, and professors in the classroom for reference about drawing. The books connect people to the practice of drawing through a very open and considerate survey of the art form.

For the INDA 6 an eleven person jury reviewed 1307 entries by 490 artists from around the world. Nine of these works by nine artists are presented here as a sampling of this very exciting and important ongoing project. A list of all the artists included in the INDA 6 publication is available on the Manifest website. Approximately 115 works will be included in the final published book.

About Manifest

Founded in 2004 by professors and students from area Universities, Manifest Creative Research Gallery and Drawing Center is a 501(c)(3) non-profit arts organization headquartered in the historic urban neighborhood of East Walnut Hills in Cincinnati, Ohio. The 1000 square foot museum-quality street level gallery offers three distinct exhibition spaces, and is minutes away from downtown Cincinnati, and the numerous academic institutions of higher learning in the region. Its central location in the Woodburn Avenue district and DeSales Corner places it within an energetic, creative, and revitalizing community that includes other galleries, shops, restaurants and artists’ studios.

The gallery benefits from its location within easy walking distance of a historic neighborhood populated by residents from all walks of life. The galleries are free and open to the public five hours a day, five days a week, presenting works of all kinds by student and professional artists from around the world. The Manifest Drawing Center Studio is located in nearby Madisonville.

Manifest is supported by grants and public donations and has the goal to support student professionalism, integrate the arts into the urban residential community and raise the bar on artistic standards. The mission also includes the exploration of the relationship between art and design, as well as the ongoing support and display of drawing in all its various forms.

Mission

Manifest stands for the quality presentation, experience, and documentation of the visual arts, engaging students, professionals, and the public from around the world through accessible world-class exhibits, studio programs, and publications.

Manifest Gallery
...a neighborhood gallery for the world.

Manifest Press
...take every exhibit home.

Manifest Drawing Center
...because learning to draw is learning to see.
